

The human rights scandal continues

#HumanToo #StrippedofHumanRights

The latest data shows there are at least 2,050

people with a learning disability and/or autism in inpatient units.

NHS Digital Assuring Transformation data, February 2021

Shut away for too long

People with a learning disability and/or autism who are sent to inpatient units are there for an average of 5.6 years

NHS Digital Assuring Transformation data, February 2021

Shocking levels of restrictive practices

3,730

Within December 2020

reported uses of restrictive interventions in one month e.g. physical, chemical, mechanical restraint and being kept in isolation.

Of these, 835 were against Children (under 18s)

NHS Digital MHSDS Data: December 2020, published March 2021

Children in units

Under 18s

The number of children with a learning disability and/or autism in inpatient units has increased since the start of the Transforming Care programme.

February 2021

210

March 2015

110

NHS Digital Assuring Transformation data, February 2021

Mental Health Act reform

'We now have a better understanding and practice of how we can best support people with learning disabilities and/or autism... we must bring the Mental Health Act into the 21st century.' - Secretary of State for Health and Social Care

We are glad the Government has recognised important changes are needed to the Mental Health Act to help stop people with a learning disability and/or autism getting stuck in inpatient units.

However, law reform is not enough. We need investment in the right community support now.

Delayed discharge

95

 people had their discharge delayed.

Main reasons: lack of social care and lack of suitable housing in the community.

NHS Digital Assuring Transformation data, February 2021

COVID-19 makes Transforming Care even more of a priority, not less

The Government must not use COVID-19 as an excuse not to put a stop to this human rights scandal.

This crisis has brought into even sharper focus the urgent need for a robust cross-government strategy and investment in social care, to stop inappropriate admissions and get people out of inpatient units.

#socialcareneedsashnow

March 2021

Registered charity number 222377
(England and Wales);
SC041079 (Scotland) 2021.015